(c) In the wake of increasing transit traffic, the Government have taken various steps to enlarge bilateral, regional and international cooperation to combat drug trafficking problems which, inter alia include allowing the posting of Drug Liaison Officers from USA, Canada, U.K. and West Germany, in India. Such cooperation enables exchange of intelligence and information about drug traffickers and their activities.

A number of aggressive counter-measures have also been launched by the Government which, inter alia, include provision of deterrent punishments against drug traffickers, strengthening of preventive and intelligence machinery (especially in and around borders and vulnerable areas), adoption of a liberalised reward scheme for both officers and informers, strengthening of bilateral cooperation between neighbouring countries (incluling regional cooperation under the aegis of SAARC). The Prevention of Illicit Traffic in Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1988 provides for preventive detention upto a maximum period of 2 years for drug related crimes. 250 persons have so far been detained under the said Act.

The Narcotic Drugs and Psychotropic Substances Act, 1985 has also been amended to strengthen it further. The amendments, inter alia, include provisions for foreiture of illegally acquired property derived from or used in illicit drug trafficing; criminalising the activity of financing drug trafficking and for death penalty on second conviction for specified offences.
